

Greg Trooper

UPSIDE-DOWN TOWN

Upside-Down Town is the latest release from singer/songwriter Greg Trooper. This is Trooper's first studio recording of new material since his acclaimed Dan Penn produced cd "Make It Through This World". This time Trooper co-produced the album with Stewart Lerman (Jules Shear, Marshall Crenshaw, Boardwalk Empire) and Kevin McKendree (Delbert McClinton). Trooper's lyrics speak to everyone as they umbrella themes of love and loss, dreams deferred, reconciliation and finding peace.

"Greg Trooper is a songwriter and performer who deserves about 12 times the attention he's received. He knows how to play rock against country and folk and position the pressures of adulthood against the longing for adolescent freedom." - Dave Marsh

Trooper discovered a sort of holy musical trinity in the work of Otis Redding, Bob Dylan, and Hank Williams, with their guiding lights of passion, literary dexterity and plainspoken honesty. It's one reason Trooper's music feels equally informed by Memphis soul, Greenwich Village folk and Nashville twang.

"Greg Trooper's roots-rock can lean toward soul or country or Dylan, and it's filled with yearning and promises" - Jon Pareles (New York Times)

He's joined on this record by some of the most talented musicians Americana music has to offer including, Kenneth Blevins (John Hiatt) on drums, Kevin McKendree (Delbert McClinton) on keyboards and guitars, and David Jacques (John Prine) bass as well as a host of guests including Trooper's son Jack on drums for three of the tracks.

Upside-Down Town's street date is February 8, 2011. It's a jumpin' little record you'll want your jockey to play.
